

Workshop 2 December 2009

The Courtyard Suite
Ramada Birmingham, Solihull Hotel
The Square, Solihull, West Midlands B91 3RF, United Kingdom

09.30	Registration and coffee Posters on show all day
10.00	Chairman - Tony Bridgwater Aston University Bioenergy Research Group
10.05	Introduction Hamid Mozaffarian, ECN, Netherlands
10.20	Identification of existing industrial (fuel producing) complexes in Europe Preliminary results Work Package 1 - Hamid Mozaffarian, ECN, Netherlands
10.40	Definition of most promising added value bioproducts Preliminary results Work Package 2 - Tony Bridgwater, Aston University, UK
11.00	Integral technical, economic and ecological system assessments to select the most promising market specific integrated biorefineries Preliminary results Work Package 4 - Vesa Arpiainen, VTT, Finland
11.20	Break and Poster Viewing and Networking
11.40	Technology deployment Preliminary results Work Package 5 - Philippe Willems, VFT, Belgium
12.00	Knowledge import from outside the EC Preliminary results Work Package 3 - Koen Meesters, AFSG, Netherlands
12.20	IEA Bioenergy Task 42 Biorefineries René van Ree, AFSG, Netherlands
12.40	Sustoil Project Abbas Kazmi, University of York, UK
13.00	Lunch
13.40	Posters and Networking
14.10	Development of lignocellulose biorefinery for co-production of bio-ethanol, chemicals, electricity and heat – Overview of the IP Biosynergy. Hans Reith, ECN, Netherlands
14.30	Abengoa's bioethanol activities Laura Bermúdez, Abengoa Bioenergía Nuevas Tecnologías, Spain
14.50	Biorefinery within the pulp & paper sector Christian Hoffstedt, INNVENTIA, Sweden
15.10	The opportunities for biorefineries Martin Lersch, Borregaard, Norway
15.30	Biorefinery opportunities in the UK Geraint Evans, NNFCC, UK
15.50	Break and Poster Viewing and Networking
16.10	Round Table – Chair Tony Bridgwater René van Ree, AFSG, Netherlands Abbas Kazmi, University of York, UK Hans Reith, ECN, Netherlands Martin Lersch, Borregaard, Norway Geraint Evans, NNFCC, UK
17.00	Close